

Overlege dr.med. Carl Johan Unger-Vetlesen Charitable Fund

• THE UNGER-VETLESEN MEDICAL FUND

Mrs. E.P. Lyster-Smythe, late of Jersey, Channel Islands, has set up in Jersey, a fund in memory of her father for the benefit of the Norwegian medical profession. The primary object of the Fund is to promote knowledge of all aspects of medical science amongst members of the Norwegian medical profession (beneficiaries).

The fund invites applications from the Norwegian medical doctors for funds to be used for the pursuance of further medical studies or research outside Norway.

The applicants must be Norwegian citizens and qualified MDs with a wish to become proficient in a major foreign language and familiarize themselves with medical development and research centered outside Scandinavia.

The above Fund is a Jersey, Channel Island fund, and administered there. Applications should concern further medical studies or research which entail a stay outside Scandinavia of at least six months.

Preference will be given to younger applicants who have not already commenced their studies abroad. It can be expected to receive an amount in the order of £15.000 – 20.000 for a one-year stay abroad.

Applications should include the following documents (all written in Times Roman, 12 pts)

- Project plan (max. 10 pages)
- CV (max. 2 pages)
- Publication list
- Budget, including additional sponsoring if available

All applications should be written in English and include a letter of recommendation from a relevant Norwegian institution and a letter of invitation from the visiting institution.

Applications should be merged in one pdf-file and mailed to the Fund's Norwegian contact address: Elisabeth.braaten@obos.no before April 1, 2021. Applications that do not include all required documents, will not be evaluated. All successful beneficiaries will be notified by ultimo May. Their names will be made public on the Fund's own website (<http://www.ungervetlesen.com>). The decisions of the Trustees concerning the applications granted each year is final.

All disbursement will be made in Pound Sterling.
